

Get the life you love!

CAMPAIGN
including NATIONAL CAREER DEVELOPMENT WEEK
"Career development – making career decisions easier"

Factsheet - What do you value in a job?

Shopping the job market means knowing what you value in a job. Rate how important each of these job-related values and benefits are to YOU.

1 = most important
2 = medium important
3 = least important

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> a high salary                | <input type="checkbox"/> promotion potential     |
| <input type="checkbox"/> on the job training          | <input type="checkbox"/> location                |
| <input type="checkbox"/> close to home                | <input type="checkbox"/> job security            |
| <input type="checkbox"/> environmentally friendly     | <input type="checkbox"/> a safe work environment |
| <input type="checkbox"/> flexible working hours       | <input type="checkbox"/> prestige                |
| <input type="checkbox"/> long holidays                | <input type="checkbox"/> flexi-time              |
| <input type="checkbox"/> the organisations reputation | <input type="checkbox"/> work colleagues         |
| <input type="checkbox"/> responsibility               | <input type="checkbox"/> autonomy                |
| <input type="checkbox"/> working with a team          | <input type="checkbox"/> being in charge         |
| <input type="checkbox"/> challenge                    | <input type="checkbox"/> variety                 |
| <input type="checkbox"/> predictability               | <input type="checkbox"/> helping others          |
| <input type="checkbox"/> creative                     |  |

Now write down the values and benefits you rated Number 1, and try to rank them from most important to least important. Keep them in mind when you are looking for a job.

Author – Karen Penrose, Career Industry Council of Australia Project Director (Content checked November 2011)