National Career Development Week in Your Community 17 to 23 May 2010

National Career Development Week in Your Community is being held at Mount Gambier High School during the week of 17 to 23 May 2010. It has been entitled “A Celebration of Careers” to promote the importance of understanding and researching different careers. Students have the opportunities to be involved in various ways.

A local representative from the Career Development Centre will be attending the school and working with students at lunch time on Tuesday and Thursday from 1.15 – 1.45pm assisting them with resume production.

Students also have three activities to participate in – What Career is This?, Solving the Mystery of Prior Employment for staff members and Design a Poster or Business Card for their Dream Job.

Staff also have the opportunity to participate in a competition where they can describe the best moment in their teaching career to date or while working in a school.

The school’s Careers Advisor, Samantha Brown said, “This week’s activities will complement work undertaken around the Personal Learning Plan and Resiliency Programme activities held at Mount Gambier High as well as assisting students to think about careers they may wish to undertake on completion of their schooling”.

“A Celebration of Careers” at Mount Gambier High School is a National Career Development Week (NCDW) registered event. NCDW is an initiative of the Career Industry Council of Australia (CICA) and supported by the Federal Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations (DEEWR).
