IN BRIEF

Career insights for students

WITH National Career Development Week taking place next week from May 18-22, the Esperance Local Community Partnership (ELCP) has organised a series of events to help students make the most of their career opportunities.

ELCP coordinator, Janet Durrant, said one of the key events organised was a full day careers conference, where Year 10 students from Esperance Senior High School would spend time setting goals, speaking with professionals and learning career building skills.

"It's a great chance for students to gain real insight from someone with industry experience. They can talk and ask questions and get the real answers," Ms Durrant said. Ms Durrant said now was the perfect time for parents to be speaking to their children about the future.

"Year 10 students need to realise that they need to start making choices now for their futures.

"Parents have a big influence on what their child's future career will be, and now is the ideal time to show an interest."

Ms Durrant said she was also appreciative that so many local industries had come on board and donated their time to help the students.
