Join the nation in celebrating
National Career
Development
Week

Get the life you Love!

National Career Development Week has been developed to increase active participation by Australians in the management and awareness of their careers, from childhood throughout their lifetime.

The campaign is educational, active, promotional and inspirational in nature.

National Career Development Week has been created to:

- Increase awareness and understanding of career development, its nature and importance
- Promote and encourage personal responsibility and 'ownership' in the management of every Australian's individual career development
- Provide Australians with a centralised career development resource hub and an interactive promotional tool – see www.aussiecareerweek.com
- Engage Australians in active recognition/celebration of National Career Development Week
- Encourage community participation.

High Five Principles of Career Development:

1. Change is constant - embrace it!
2. Learning is ongoing
3. Focus on the journey
4. Know yourself, believe in yourself and follow your heart
5. Access your allies
